WILDFIRE RESOURCE CENTER

Climate change continues to make an impact on the frequency and severity of insured losses. This includes hurricanes, wildfires, and other catastrophes. Given the peril-rich environment we live in, carriers must understand the complex nature of catastrophic perils to reduce exposures and to find the hidden opportunities to price them in such a way that benefits policyholders, the company, and the industry at large. For this reason, AAIS has developed its Risk Awareness Service.

Every day there is a new, complex peril carriers need to understand, exposure to perils they need to determine, and ways to find opportunities for growth. AAIS recognized a gap in high-quality, curated content and insights presented in a digestible platform. So AAIS developed Risk Awareness Service to consolidate, interpret, and serve up relevant, timely, and actionable information about specific perils, like wildfire.

AAIS Wildfire Resource Center

The Wildfire Resource Center is more comprehensive than what's currently offered in the marketplace and is different from traditional CAT models aimed at engineers and modeling experts looking to understand how to adjust the respective models. The AAIS Wildfire Resource Center is geared toward the underwriting professional, providing:

- Fundamental scientific foundations of wildfire behavior
- In-depth coverage of historic wildfire losses
- Lessons learned from changing wildfire paradigms, policies, and practices
- How wildfires are mitigated and suppressed at the parcel, community, and national level
- Live interactive tracker for currently burning wildfires

The Wildfire Resource Center is divided into two parts, the Wildfire Knowledge Hub and Wildfire Live Tracker.

Wildfire Knowledge Hub includes:

- Detailed information about wildfires
- Curated wildfire insights
- Numerous links, embedded resources, and authoritative documents from leading wildfire experts
- An easy-to-use, dynamic, and engaging platform

Wildfire Live Tracker provides:

- A map interface that provides a dynamic platform
- The ability to drill down into current wildfires, where losses are occurring, and possible implications.
- Wildfire information from a range of authoritative government and industry sources is overlaid on the AAIS loss costs and industry exposure data
- A tool to help Members understand where wildfires and pockets of exposures intersect

Dedicated Service

Since 1936, AAIS has built a reputation for innovative advisory solutions and unprecedented service. Our experts deliver 'best in class' insurance forms, rules and loss costs, along with the very best data, actuarial and regulatory compliance counsel available.

As the Modern Advisory Organization, we are invested in the success of our Members, providing value-added services beyond the expected. Our new Wildfire Resource Center is not a subscription service or a licensed model. It is simply the go-to source for information and insights on how to navigate this emerging peril.
