PRESS RELEASE

Risk Control Technologies Joins AAIS as Associate Partner

LISLE, IL., February 11, 2021 - AAIS (American Association of Insurance Services), the modern, Member-focused insurance advisory organization, is pleased to welcome Risk Control Technologies Inc. (RCT) as an Associate Partner.

RCT provides end-to-end software solutions to loss prevention and safety departments and serves a customer community of more than 125 organizations representing a wide range of lines of business and organization types. RCT helps insurers to reduce claims, streamline operations, increase customer retention, and harness powerful data insights that guide decision making. In addition to optimizing traditional loss control services and consultations, RCT provides new virtual touchpoints with insureds through areas such as RCT Direct Survey and video consultations.

“RCT is thrilled by the opportunity to join and partner with AAIS,” explained David Da Costa, CEO of Risk Control Technologies. “Our mutual focus on the importance of customer experience will provide clients significant value and positions our organizations for a long-lasting partnership.”

“We’re pleased that RCT has joined the AAIS community as our newest Associate Partner,” said Truman Esmond, AAIS Vice President of Solutions and Partnerships. “Our goal is to connect AAIS Members with quality product and service providers that can help them be successful, and RCT software can be an important complement to a carrier’s effective risk management and customer engagement strategies.”
